

Grand Rapids, Michigan – Price, Heneveld, Cooper, DeWitt & Litton, LLP, the leading intellectual property law firm in West Michigan, is pleased to announce that attorney Paul A. Rodriguez has joined the firm.

Prior to joining Price Heneveld, Rodriguez, an associate, gained valuable experience as a law clerk at a Chicago law firm. He also worked as a test engineer/conductor at Moog Inc.'s Chatsworth Operations in Chatsworth, CA.

Rodriguez received a B.S. degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Michigan in 2004 and a J.D. degree from DePaul University College of Law in Chicago in 2008 where he earned a certificate in intellectual property in patent law. As an undergraduate student, he was a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and, as a law student, he was a member of the Intellectual Property Law Society and the Intellectual Property Legal Writing Program.

He is currently a member of the American Intellectual Property Law Association and the Grand Rapids Bar Association (Intellectual Property and Young Lawyers Sections).

Price, Heneveld, Cooper, DeWitt & Litton, LLP is an internationally recognized law partnership founded in Grand Rapids, Michigan in 1952. The firm specializes in patent, trademark, and copyright causes, technology-related law, international trade law, unfair competition, trade secrets, antitrust matters, and related law.